Mock Campaign Next Wednesday

Prominent Men To Give Leading Party Platforms

Students Will Hold Mock Poll for Presidential Nomination—Affair Conducted by Student Council—Delegates to Attend Convention at Smith College May 18

The students of the University will hold a mock political convention on May 16, in accordance with the plan sponsored by the Harvard Democratic Club. This club is conducting a contest in political platforms drawn up by college students in an endeavor to arouse study and discussion of nationally important questions.

The local convention for next Wednesday is to be Progressive, rather than Democratic or Republican. The prominent candidates for the presidency of the United States will be represented by undergraduate speakers, five of whom have had experience on the University debating teams.

Searls Dearington, '28, of Melrose, Mass., will summarize the main features of the Democratic platform, while the same will be done for the Republican platform by Edward Ward, '28, of Wakefield, Mass. John D. Fleming, '29, editor and Mask and Dagger actor, will speak for the candidacy of Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York; Cleveland Sleeper, '28, versatile debater, will speak for Reed; Roland Smith, '28, of last fall's mayoralty campaign for Dawes, and Lester Brooks, '28, debater and manager of the 1928 "Granite," for Herbert Hoover. The choice of speaker was made by the Student Council which is staging the convention.

A poll of student choice for the presidency will be taken at the convention, and the speaker for the winning candidate sent to the intercollegiate convention to be held the following week at Smith College. It is possible that President E. M. Lewis of the University may make the keynote speech at next Wednesday's convention.

Following the address of Senator Thomas J. Walsh at Symphony Hall, Boston, on April 12, delegates and students of twenty colleges there assembled, organized the Eastern Intercollegiate Convention Council, the purpose of which is to make arrangements for an Intercollegiate Democratic Mock Nominating Convention (Continued on Page 2)

Graduate Student Writes Article on England's Egyptian Policy

"The post-war diplomats apparently believe in handling international affairs by the strong-arm method of hurling peremptory ultimatums" writes William Yale, a graduate student at the University, in connection with the situation existing between Great Britain and Egypt, in an article published by the "Boston Globe" last Sunday. This is the second story that Mr. Yale has had printed in that paper within the last few months, his first article having dealt with the challenge of Ibn Saud, Arabian Sultan, to the British Empire. The writer has seen a great deal of the Egyptian problem having been a former special agent of the American State Department at Cairo.

The article points out that Egypt has not been given the opportunity to handle her own affairs and because of the presence of many foreigners has not been able even to run her cotton industry which is one of her most important sources of income.

The most recent ultimatum issued by Great Britain prevents the right of assembly without police interference. Mr. Yale goes on to say in regard to this, "This kind of diplomacy is deplorable. It is injurious both to the interest of Egypt and Great Britain. Although the analogy cannot be carried too far, there is a certain resemblance between the Egyptian and the Irish problems. As in the one case, so in the other, Great Britain has reached a place where she is prepared to make large concessions if and when those concerned consent to remain within the orbit of the British Empire."

The writer also brings out the conflict between Great Britain and Egypt over the Sudan country which lies just south of Egypt proper, and forms the key to central Africa. It was conquered some time ago by British and Egyptian troops financed by Egypt under British leaders. The Egyptians claim the Sudan as part of their country but the British have endeavored to establish a counter claim. This is another cause for dispute between these two countries.

In regard to the ultimatum and Egypt's acceptance of it Mr. Yale concludes his article with the following: "The Egyptian reply to Britain's ultimatum reads as if wiser heads were ruling the day and that eventually Egypt will strike a shrewd bargain with her old opponent, Great Britain."

Keene Planning R. O. T. C. Welcome

Merchants Raise Money To Entertain Students

Suitable Camp Site Selected—Dances Arranged for Monday and Tuesday Nights—13th U. S. Infantry Cooks in Charge of Kitchen Police

As a preparation for the exodus of the University R. O. T. C. Regiment to Keene on May 20, the Chamber of Commerce of that city has set itself to work in order that the stay of the student soldiers will be as pleasant and well remembered as possible. Being well aware of the tendency of present day youth to proclivate to dance halls, the Chamber of Commerce, according to Mr. A. B. White, chairman of its committee, has succeeded in arranging a dance for both Monday and Tuesday nights. A sum of approximately $1,000 has been raised from the citizens of Keene to offset the expense of these dances. On Monday night the student soldiers will be the honored guests of the City of Keene, while on Tuesday night the Keene Normal School will act as hostesses to the R. O. T. C. unit.

The Keene Chamber of Commerce, being further aware of the fact that no modern youth likes to walk any further than is absolutely necessary, has, with a most appreciable foresight, provided for free bus service to and from the encampment. Inasmuch as the site of the camp is a good two miles from the center of Keene, it is to be predicted that if this provision had not been made, there would have been many a weary, disillusioned, and foot-weary young "war-god" painfully hailing into camp at some small hour of the morning.

As a result of the inspection of the proposed camp site by the officers of the R. O. T. C. unit, it is assured that the ground on which the pup tents are to be pitched is level, sandy, and well-drained. Near to the camping grounds is a football field which

"Mother's Day" Well Attended

Guests Entertained By Varsity Athletic Events

Mothers See University Classes In Daily Routine—Witness R. O. T. C. Review—Addressed By President Edward M. Lewis

Six hundred mothers of University students were entertained here last Saturday at the third annual "Mothers' Day," which was instituted for the purpose of giving mothers an insight into the life and work of students while at the University. The day corresponds with the "Dads' Day" which is being held during the fall term.

The guests registered at the faculty club at nine in the morning, and were immediately conducted on tours of the campus by faculty members and seniors. On these tours they were given an opportunity to see the classes in actual session and to observe college teaching methods. At eleven o'clock the visitors gathered in the stand at Memorial Field for a review of the New Hampshire regiment of the R. O. T. C. Following the review a group picture of the mothers was taken in the grandstand.

A feature of the day was the gathering in the men's gymnasium where the guests were acquainted with their children's professors. At this meeting President Lewis gave a short address, making the first time that many of the mothers had an opportunity to meet him since he took over the presidency of the University last September. Immediately after the address a luncheon was served in the Commons in honor of the guests.

The afternoon was given over to athletic entertainment consisting of a baseball game with Amherst and a dual track meet with Bates. Although New Hampshire lost both the ball game and the track meet, the entertainment was of high quality; the sensational work of Paul Toolin, intercollegiate hurdle ace, being a feature.

During their stay, the mothers made their headquarters at the Faculty Club, where lounging room was always available and refreshments kept ready. Many stayed overnight and spent the week-end with their sons and daughters in Durham.

MADELINE PICKWICK MADE STAGE MANAGER

Will Also Understudy Women's Roles in Mask and Dagger Production To Play Here Next Month

Madeline Pickwick of Manchester has been selected as stage manager of the spring term production of Mask and Dagger, dramatic society of the University, according to an announcement by Professor William G. Hennessy, director of dramatics. The play chosen for the present term is "Adam and Eva," a former Broadway success which will play here four performances during June in the new University Theater in Murland Hall.

Miss Pickwick, who played an important role in the society's production of "Icebound," Owen Davis' Pulitzer prize play, last fall, will also understudy the leading women's roles in the present production. Miss Pickwick is a member of the sophomore class and of the Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

Rehearsals of the present play commenced immediately after the final presentation of Sir James Barrie's "Dear Brutus" which was presented here and in Concord during the winter. The new play will be performed on the evenings of June 6 and 7 and again twice during the annual Commencement week.

In addition to Avis Henning, '31, it also stars Randolph Wilkinson, '28, of Lyme and Paul Kirvan, '29, of Portsmouth in the leading men's roles.

CAP AND GOWN BIDS THIRTEEN JUNIORS

Honorary Society for Women Students Corresponds to Senior Skulls for Men Students—New Members Include Women Prominent in Campus Activities

Thirteen women students of the University have been elected to Cap and Gown, honorary senior society for women. The list was announced recently by Priscilla Morris of Epping, a member of the senior class who is president of the organization. Election to the group, which corresponds to the Senior Skulls and Blue Key societies of the men students, is a special mark of recognition for women students at the end of their first three years in college.

The new members will be initiated in the near future and will take over the duties of the society with the start of the new college year. They are among the most prominent women students in the University and include four sorority presidents, the president of the women's student government association, the women's editor of the undergraduate newspaper, and several of the prominent actresses of the Mask and Dagger dramatic society.

The newly elected members are Ruth Pitcher of Keene, Alice Spinney of Worcester, Mass., Jane Blake of Manchester, Louise Sprague of Concord, Lois Tompkins of Salem, Mass., Elisabeth Bauer of Durham, Gyneth Prew of Foxboro, Mass., Marjorie Dahlberg of Manchester, Gertrude Nye of Westville, Hattie Record of East Jaffrey, Marjorie West of Worcester, Mass., Beatrice Gray of Walpole and Irene Gadbois of Manchester.

The men's senior societies, which elected several weeks ago have been in existence for many years, but an honorary society for senior women was not formed until the present college year when members of the present senior class banded together for this purpose. The new members are the first to be officially elected as a reward of merit and an indication of the esteem in which they are held by their schoolmates. The new society corresponds to "Mortar Board," a national honorary society for senior women.

WILDCAT STICKMEN FACE B. U. SATURDAY

Evans Is Most Probable Choice For Mound Duty—Mass. Aggies Here Next Week

On Saturday the Wildcat nine faces the Boston University team in Durham. The game will be called at 2.30 and will make a full week for the New Hampshire ball players, who played Tufts on Tuesday and gave an exhibition game with the Manchester Blue Sox yesterday. Evans will probably start the game on the mound for the Wildcats, while the rest of the lineup will be little changed.

So far this season the B. U. Terriers have been more or less unsuccessful, having been defeated by Tufts, Boston College, and Brown. They have won over M. I. T. and hope to defeat New Hampshire, but the latter is expected to break into the winning column by a comfortable margin.

On Monday the Massachusetts Agricultural team plays the Wildcats in Durham at 4.15. Clement, who twirled against the Manchester Blue Sox, will probably pitch this game. The Aggies also have lost to Amherst, so both teams are out to redeem themselves. This game holds particular interest owing to the fact that President Lewis was formerly the head of the Bay State institution. The President was formerly a big league pitcher of note and later coached the Harvard baseball team for a number of years.

INTRAMURAL BASEBALL NOW UNDER WAY IN BOTH LEAGUES

The intramural baseball season is now well under way, games having been played when the weather permitted during the last ten days. Games which must for one reason or another be postponed are played off under such arrangements as the two fraternities interested can make between themselves, often being played early in the morning. In the American League Theta Chi defeated Phi Mu Delta 3-0, Alpha Tau Omega defeated Phi Mu Delta 5-1, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon lost to Phi Delta Upsilon 5-4. In the National League Kappa Sigma defeated Alpha Tau Alpha 5-0, and Alpha Gamma Rho 11-0, Alpha Gamma Rho defeated Delta Pi Epsilon 13-4, and Gamma Gamma Gamma defeated Delta Sigma Chi 7-6.

Elect Sawyer "Granite" Editor

Staff Of 1929 Year Book Includes Clarey and Rogers

Sawyer to Assume Duties Next September—Earl Batchelder Also Chosen for Staff

Ray S. Sawyer of Manchester has been elected the new editor-in-chief of the "Granite," the yearbook published annually by the junior class of the University. Sawyer's election took place at a meeting of the staff of the 1929 "Granite" which is to appear on the campus in the near future. Sawyer will go into office with the beginning of the new college year in September and will have entire charge of the staff and the yearbook of the present sophomore class.

Other officers elected Monday evening were John Clarey of Manchester, managing editor, Frank Rogers of Franklin business manager, and Earl Batchelder of Manchester, assistant business manager. These men are the only sophomores to be elected to the new staff to date, but according to Melbourne Cummings '29 chairman of the editorial board for the present year, the entire new staff will be elected by the 1929 staff at a meeting in the near future. The newly elected officers will be allowed to make suggestions as to the filling of the various offices left open on the board. All the editors and managers will be selected from among the sophomore "heelers" assisting the present "Granite" board. The men elected Monday held this position.

Sawyer, who will have entire charge of the board next year, is prominent in sophomore class affairs and is a member of the Sphinx, honorary sophomore society, and of the Theta Chi fraternity.

The yearbook to come out the first of next month is to be one of the best ever published at the University according to present predictions and will have as its theme the progress of the University during the past ten years. It will show pictures of the various buildings erected during that time and also of the important events in connection with the University. Since 1919 when the tale of progress is taken up to the present date there have been five new buildings erected, the New Hampshire College of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts has become a part of the University of New Hampshire, the University has acquired high prestige scholastically and athletically and in 1924 Governor John G. Winant signed the Mill Tax bill assuring the University adequate financial support on the part of the state of New Hampshire.

In addition to photographs of this chain of progress there will be short write-ups of the junior and senior classes and individual portraits of the juniors, group photographs of all the classes of the University, as well as of the athletic teams, the fraternities and sororities and other organizations on the campus. A feature of the book will be a section of views of the campus and its immediate vicinity.

SPRING TERM DANCE HELD AT SMITH HALL DORMITORY

Smith Hall dormitory held its annual spring term dance last Saturday evening at the dormitory from 8 until 11.30 P. M. The Red Ramblers' orchestra played for the dancing. Many of the mothers who were visiting the campus for Mother's Day activities were guests at the dance.

The living rooms were decorated to resemble an old English Tavern; the tables being covered with red cloths, the lighting effects of old lanterns, and wine bottles completing the desired effect. The dance orders carried out the idea of the tavern by containing the inscription on the leather covers: "Ye Olde Smythe Tavern."

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Rinear, Mrs. Shirley L. Whitney, and Mrs. Marcia Sanders chaperoned the dance. The committee chairmen were as follows: Dance orders, Charlotte Pearl; refreshments, Alice Weinbeck; decorations, Ruth Pushee; orchestra, Harriett Shepard; chaperons, Bessie Fogg.

Thirty-one high and preparatory schools will compete in the 17th annual Interscholastic Track and Field Meet held by the University on Memorial Field Saturday.

This year the meet will be divided into four classes instead of two, as formerly. There will be two in-state divisions and two out-state divisions: for High schools and Preparatory schools. This new system will bring a greater number of in-state high schools to the meet, schools which have hitherto refrained from entering, due to the competition with preparatory schools. The divisions will make competition keener in each class.

From present indications, there will be approximately 432 school-boy athletes here this week-end, the majority of whom are from out of the state. Many of the schools have not sent in their individual entries as yet, but the team entries have been made and are divided as follows: There are seven in-state preparatory schools; seven in-state high schools; four out-state preparatory schools, and thirteen out-state high schools.

Manchester High school, winner of the in-state division last year, will defend its title, with but a bare possibility that it will repeat last year's performance, due to the loss of material through graduation. The most formidable in the high school class seems to be Berlin High, second highest high school point scorer last year.

Brewster Academy and Clark School are new entries in the preparatory school division, in-state, and Henniker and Hillsborough make their initial bow in the high school class. Sanborn Seminary is the only school represented last year which will not compete this year.

Many of the competing teams will arrive tomorrow night, especially those from out of state, which are in the majority. Schools from out of state are representative of Vermont, Massachusetts, and Maine. The athletes will stay in various fraternity houses and dormitories, and any overflow will be taken care of in the men's gymnasium, where the University has installed beds. The Sphinx will have charge of the visitors during their stay here.

The meet will begin at 9 A. M. Saturday with the heats and semi-finals in the running events getting under way, and the trials and finals in the field events starting at this time. Finals in the running events will start promptly at 1.30 P. M., in order that the Varsity meet with Boston (Continued on Page 4)

Sphinx Issues Freshman Bids

Thirty-Two First Year Men Admitted to Society

Two Members of Each Fraternity and Two Non-Fraternity Men Chosen in Recognition of Outstanding Merit—Organization Aids Athletic Department

Thirty-two members of the freshman class have been extended bids to the Sphinx, honorary sophomore society, according to the announcement of William Prince of Dorchester, Mass., president of the organization. Two members of each of the fraternities on the campus and two men chosen by the non-fraternity men of the University have been selected for the highest honor that a freshman can receive at the University.

The Sphinx is a society for the purpose of taking care of the athletic teams of other institutions during their stay in Durham for intercollegiate competition and election to it is recognition of outstanding merit for the men chosen. They are all members of the first year class and their work will take place during the next college year. The men are chosen by their fraternities or in the case of non-fraternity members, at a meeting of the non-fraternity men of the institution. The non-fraternity members for next year have not as yet been announced. The organization works in cooperation with the Department of Athletics under the direction of Director of Athletics William H. Cowell.

COME OUT AND VOTE

Perhaps the most talked of topic in the country at the present time is the race among the various candidates for the Republican and Democratic nominations. Strangely enough, however, this subject has had very little part in our campus conversations. Either we are idealistic and do not care to mix with politics which may possibly be corrupt and sordid or else we are not taking a proper interest in the affairs of our country.

The mock convention to be staged during the next Convocation period by the Student Council is a very laudable attempt to bring home to us the most striking features of the present political situation and should receive the whole-hearted cooperation of the student body. It is not to be looked upon as a chance for certain students to gain prominence by speaking in public, but rather as a worthy educational project which the council is presenting to the University. The speakers were selected by the members of the Student Council because of previous experience in public speaking and are speaking at its express invitation, and it is clearly up to the students to attend the gathering and to vote intelligently afterward.

In considering the coming convention students should realize that the idea is not original with the University of New Hampshire but that it has been tried out in practically every large University in the country during the past few weeks. Delegates for the winning candidates at our own little convention will be sent to Smith College the following week-end to attend the meeting of the Eastern Intercollegiate Convention Council of which Arthur Barnhart of Harvard University is president. The delegates at this convention will vote to determine the candidate favored by the majority of Eastern colleges and universities and will then draw up a platform on a progressive basis, exclusive of party, which will be sent to the leaders of both the leading parties in the country as expressive of the political views of the younger, our own, generation.

Let's show a proper pride in the affairs of our country and in ourselves as college men and women of the present by supporting the Council's convention to the utmost next Wednesday.

A WELCOME FROM KEENE

Word has been received here that the merchants of Keene have cooperated with the Chamber of Commerce in raising nearly a thousand dollars for the entertainment of the R. O. T. C. unit while it is encamped there for its annual spring trip. We feel that such an endeavor on the part of the people of Keene merits a great deal of consideration on our part and should be recognized by the student body, and particularly by the members of the unit who are to enjoy this hospitality.

Each year the Military Department selects a city or town in the state for its spring encampment and during the time of the men's stay there, they have been well received by the members of the community. Heretofore Alumni associations or private organizations have taken it upon themselves to entertain the members of the student body who attend the camp but this is the first occasion where nearly the entire city has banded together to insure the visitors a pleasant stay.

In view of this fact, it is our special consideration to reciprocate in kind. The officers in charge have outlined the program for the three or four days of the camp but during the evening the men will be on their own time and their appreciation of the kindness and hospitality of the people of Keene will be evidenced in their manner and bearing. Let us answer this generosity in such a way as to make the donors of the gift feel that their efforts have been well worth while.

and also if there is sufficient interest, a similar Republican convention.

The thought of those who are arranging the Democratic Convention is that there exists today need for a vigorous forward looking party; that the tradition of the Democratic party particularly of the leadership of Woodrow Wilson, is Progressive and Liberal; and that the party has been in the past and should increasingly become the agency of courageous Progressive leadership to serve the country by restoring the idealism of the "New Freedom" and the lost visions of the war.

The Eastern Intercollegiate Convention Council therefore extended an invitation to the students of all colleges, whatever their former party affiliations to Come as Delegates to This Intercollegiate Convention. The convention will follow, as far as practicable, the actual procedure of the National Conventions, but, unlike some of the conventions, will not be run from behind the scenes; the convention will be organized in a democratic manner and the sole function of its organizers shall be to see that as great an opportunity as possible is given to all, whatever their college and whatever state they represent. The purpose of this convention is not to favor any particular candidacy, or any particular doctrine but to provide an opportunity for forward looking college men and women to gather in "common council" and freely consider the application of Progressive American principles to present day political conditions. The advance data was given out by Arthur Barnhart, president of the Eastern Intercollegiate Convention Council.

The convention will be held on May 18th and 19th at Smith College, Northampton, Massachusetts.

TRACK HELPERS WANTED

Opportunity to aid the Sphinx and the Athletic Department offers itself this Friday and Saturday. Volunteers to help these organizations during the interscholastic track meet are sought. Any member of the four classes is acceptable. Those willing to help are urged to notify William Boardman '30 of the S. A. E. house.

By John Clarey '30

It seems strange that with so many fine tennis courts dotting the campus, the tennis team cannot find a decent place to practice. At present, they are forced to take the University courts as the Phys. Ed. classes leave them. Or perhaps we should have said, what is left of the courts, when the Phys. Edders. quit romping over them.

The forthcoming "Political" Convocation promises to be interesting. The female element on the campus which has been proclaiming its superiority may take this opportunity to exercise the suffrage which it has been clamoring for.

Some of the more ambitious fraternities have gone daylight saving one better, in playing their baseball games at 6 A. M. The football floodlights may even be utilized for midnight games in the future, or phosphorescent baseballs obtained, for the sake of novelty, if anyone cares enough for these wee-hour games.

It seems the famous cigarette slogan is revolutionizing modern advertising. Rumor has it that Coca-Cola will in the future be known as the beverage with "Not a drunk in a boatload."

Dartmouth has refused to consider the rifle team as an athletic organization. But then, our neighbors do not have required Military Science.

The following are among the best poetical contributions this week:

CAPRICE

They call us wild because we love, and laugh, and play.

They call us wild because the blood of youth is gay.

Still what care we for their advice?

We know our own does well suffice.

Tomorrow, deeds in Mem'ries Halls are hung.

Let us live now, today, while we are young!

THE FOX'S SERENADE

Little Goose, I love thee, little Goose,

As I sing below thy window,

Often thus I stray

Waiting, till thy face appearing

Chase my fears away.

The twinkling stars are brightly shining,

The sky is dark above me

As for thee I'm sadly pining.

How I dearly love thee!

All alone I'm waiting. Is it any use

Little Goose?

Little Goose, I love thee, little Goose.

Soft and low I breathe my passion;

Will you come and bless my sight?

Ah! if dreams your form could fashion

How unwelcome were the light!

Do you smile, my love disdainful?

Meanwhile through the lonely night

Here I wait, of thee complaining

To the stars so cold and bright.

Come with me—to mother—you, I'll introduce,

Little Goose.

Little Goose, I love thee, little Goose,

Leave me not in darkness pining.

From thy lofty window's height

Let one look of pity shining

Warm my heart with new delight.

I love you more than life—or nearly

But I dare not stay.

Some night you will be mine really

When I pass this way.

Adieu, I hear the farmer; the dog is now unloose.

Little Goose.

ON OTHER CAMPUSES

Wesleyan University finds it necessary to turn the lights out in chapel to prevent the students from reading during the exercises. It is interesting to remember, however, that darkness makes it easier to sleep.

Here's proof that all co-eds are not bashful. The co-eds of Williamette College passed through two weeks of leap year during which they asked fellows for dates and paid for them. Not such a bad idea after all, if the co-eds have the money.

A Freshman at the University of Michigan has been rewarded for writing George Bernard Shaw an appreciation of his work by a fatherly letter on the good and bad of college, sent him by the playwright. Shaw's letter reads:

"I think that college life makes a man a much better citizen because it is a communal life and therefore trains him for human society. College graduates, like sailors, are very superior to merely domesticated persons in point of sociability.

"On the other hand, college training is intellectually and morally ruining except to the very few people who have a natural aptitude for its subjects and a strong and indiscriminate memory for all sorts and scraps of information; that is, with certain technical tastes and no more values—no conscience, in short.

"Except in cases where a college degree is an indispensable qualification for some contemplated professional career a college student should make the most out of college by reading what he likes and discussing it at students' clubs (if there are any except drinking and sporting ones) and doing the least minimum of dry work to secure a pass, or even retire without one—short of being kicked out. But every case is peculiar, and cannot come under any general prescription. Travel if you can afford it, preferably on foot and fourth class."

—The New Student.

Fraternity politics certainly did not play any part in this election. Carthage college football men gathered the other day to elect a football captain for fall, and two men were tied for the position. A special committee was appointed to investigate the comparative qualifications of the two men. The committee not being able to make a selection of one of the two, the candidates met in the office of President Wickey, who flipped a coin to decide the issue.

This clipping might interest some of the recent contributors to the "Mail Box."

According to a recent issue of The New Student, Robert Frost, renowned New England poet, told a reporter for the Michigan Daily that "Colleges are like individuals. They think the important thing is to be 'advanced,' whereas the really important thing with colleges as well as individuals is to be original."

Political science students at the University of Chicago, played an important part in the recent Chicago elections, by guarding the polls. From the accounts of these elections in the papers it would seem that the R. O. T. C. students should have had the job.

Seattle, Wash. (by New Student Service.) College Humor is no longer to be the leader and dictator of American collegiate wit, so far as the Western Association of College Comics is concerned. The editors and managers of these publications, in convention at the University of Washington, voted to break their contracts which give College Humor sole reprint rights.

"Our reason for breaking the Contract," said Albert Salisbury, president of the association, "is that we feel that College Humor is painting a picture of flaming youth which is not real, and which gives to the average reader a false idea of college life.

"The magazine takes all the gin and sex jokes and plays them as representative college humor, with no mention of any other type. College magazines bury the gin and sex jokes with a greater proportion of clean humor just as representative of college life."

The action was unanimous. The association will make its feeling known to other associations of college comics in the hope that its action may be the first part of a revolt against distorted pictures of collegiate America.

N. Y. ATTORNEY INSTALLS OFFICERS OF NEW SOCIETY

A chapter of the Intercollegiate Menorah Association has been established at the University recently. Harry Starr, prominent New York attorney and president of this organization, visited the campus last week to meet the members personally and to install the officers. He was the guest of the local society during his visit.

The officers installed were: Joseph L. Fearer, president; Rose Sanel, vice-president; David Faber, corresponding secretary; Sadie Freeman, recording secretary; Nat White, Treasurer.

OLD GRAD CONVOCATION POSTPONED TO NEXT FALL

An annual convocation for the alumni and students together is planned by Edward Y. Blewett, alumni secretary. This will take place from 11 to 12 o'clock on the Saturday morning of Homecoming Day next fall and will give the alumni an opportunity to see and address the student body assembled.

The convocation planned for May 9, at which Merritt C. Huse, '08, and H. F. Judkins, '11, were to speak, was postponed to next Homecoming Day because of the illness of Mr. Huse.

Blindfolded . . . in scientific test of leading Cigarettes, Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt selects OLD GOLD

MRS. REGINALD C. VANDERBILT

"I wonder if one can really tell the difference, when blindfolded," was my first thought when invited to make this test.

"After smoking the four brands, as they were handed to me one after another, I discovered there was one that was noticeably smoother than the others and richer in taste.

"This proved to be an OLD GOLD. I hope I shall be able to buy them in Paris . . . they are surprisingly free from any trace of throat irritation and have a delightful aroma which to me is very important."

Alma W. Vanderbilt

How Test Was Made

Mrs. Vanderbilt was blindfolded, and, in the presence of two responsible witnesses, was given one each of the four leading cigarettes to smoke . . . To clear the taste, coffee was served before each cigarette . . . Mrs. Vanderbilt was unaware of the identity of these cigarettes during test . . . After smoking the four cigarettes, Mrs. Vanderbilt was asked to designate by number her choice . . . She immediately replied: "Number 3" . . . which was OLD GOLD.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The annual retreat of the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet was held last Sunday at the Highland House under the direction of Mr. Andrews, student Y. M. C. A. secretary. The party went to the Highland House immediately after church and had dinner before proceeding to the business of the afternoon.

After dinner a meeting was held, at which President-elect Warren Gee, '29 presided. Plans for next year were discussed. After the business meeting, Phillip Eliot, New England secretary of Student Christian Associations, gave a short talk on the program of the Northfield Conference. Mr. Eliot was followed by the Rev. Fred S. Buschmeyer, pastor of the Durham Community Church, who spoke on "Church and 'Y' Cooperation."

Mrs. Buschmeyer and Mrs. Strowbridge, mother of the newly elected secretary of the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, were guests of honor.

Plans are being completed for the Student Forum to be held in the Commons Organization Room, Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Stanley C. Lary, director of the department of education and vocational guidance of the University Club of Boston, has been secured as the speaker of the evening. Mr. Lary will conduct a discussion on the subject "What the Business World Expects of the College Man."

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

The Y. W. C. A. is sponsoring a Nature Study group to meet with Prof. W. K. Woodward at 6 o'clock Saturday morning on the porch of Thompson hall. This group will walk through the woods under his guidance in order to study about bird life and trees. All girls interested in such study are invited.

On Monday evening at 5 o'clock Y. W. C. A. girls will meet at the Commons for a Maqua hike to Chesley Point, returning about 8:30 in the evening. Watch notices for further particulars.

High Rank Men Most Successful

Data Proves Scholarship Big Indication of Success

Gifford, President of American Tel. and Tel. Makes Survey of Statistics on College Graduates

Data recently submitted to the office of Dean Albert N. French of the College of Liberal Arts from officials of the Bell Telephone System indicates that men of high scholastic records generally lead in business success attained. Writing on the subject, Walter S. Gifford, President of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, states that studies during the last two years by members of the personnel department of the company have shown that the groups of college men in the Telephone Company have achieved, after a number of years, success in proportion to their individual scholastic ratings white at college.

In speaking of the Phi Beta Kappa Society, Mr. Gifford says that 40 per cent of the justices of the Supreme Court and 40 per cent of the secretaries of state between 1800 and 1922 were members of this society. He also recounts the statement of Dr. William Trufant Foster, former president of Reed College, that, "It is likely that the first quarter in scholarship of any school or college will give to the world as many distinguished men as the other three quarters."

Summing up the matter in a letter to Dean French, Wayne E. Keith, Director of College Relations of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, states, "In analyzing the results of this study we, who are responsible for the employment of college men for the Bell System, feel that while this study has confirmed our belief that a senior's scholarship in college is an index to his future achievement (perhaps the most important single index) we should also consider extra curriculum activities of all sorts and the degree to which he has had to work his way through college. We are now studying the relationship between these factors in the students' college career and future success and will later have available quantitative evidence on these points."

ALUMNUS GIVES LECTURE TO ENGINEERING STUDENTS

Word has been received by the administration of the University that L. E. Lynde of the class of 1920, who graduated with honors from the Department of Electrical Engineering addressed the student branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers April 28. Mr. Lynde gave an illustrated lecture on the subject of transportation.

Mr. Lynde is now manager of the Transportation division of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co., with headquarters at Boston. Upon graduation from the University he entered the student course of the Westinghouse Company and after completing it specialized in the Railway department of the company. He was later transferred to the railway sales division in New York City and recently transferred as manager of the Boston office.

Alumni News

Alumni Office.—At the Concord banquet a short time ago, we were glad to see again one of the members of the first class to graduate from New Hampshire, William P. Ballard of the class of 1871. Mr. Ballard and his two classmates, Mr. Sanders and Mr. Perkins, the three "grand old men" among New Hampshire alumni, are planning another class reunion June 16. The reunion is contingent upon the return of Mr. Perkins from the Orient where he is at present visiting his son. However, Mr. Ballard expects him to return in time and we are looking forward to entertaining the class of 1871 in Durham once more.

Graduated from the institution while it was at Hanover, the first graduates of a new college, no college spirit existed until they aroused it in the first year, no alumni body to support them or take an interest in them, their institution now grown beyond their fondest hopes, moved to a new campus of which they have no happy undergraduate memories, in fact, no background of interest in New Hampshire except that good old spirit of genuine loyalty and support to their Common Mother. They have given their loyalty through all these years and still retain their interest. And now, after 57 years they are planning to come back again. They held their 50th reunion in 1921, but are not "fed up" with New Hampshire reunions.

We think there is a lesson in this little story for all New Hampshire grads and former students. If you can find it, you have not lost your love for Alma Mater. Possibly it is a little rusty.

Just plan to give it a little polish and set the date for June 16th, one of the best Saturdays you will ever spend. Come back to Durham! You'll never regret it.

Don't forget the Boston banquet at the Hotel Princeton, 1277 Commonwealth Ave., Brighton, at 6.45 p. m. The Boston crowd invites everyone. President and Mrs. Lewis will attend, and President and Mrs. Cousins of Tufts College will also be there.

1926—Gunnar Michelson is employed in the commercial work of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company in Washington. He is living at 318 Dorset Ave., Chevy Chase, D. C.

1926—Dorothea Savithes has been conducting a private kindergarten in Dover since the first of the year and has been very successful.

SPORTISMS

The Varsity baseball team seems to have the goods but for some reason has not as yet delivered. The scorer's book shows that usually the Wildcats get as many hits as their opponents but fail to come through in the pinches. Slayton, Evans and Clement are pitching good ball, and a little higher batting averages should turn out a winning club.

The Freshman baseball squad is certainly not lacking in material with background. Harry Lord, 1931 third sacker, is the son of the famous Harry Lord who was captain of the Boston Red Sox several years ago, and Joseph Jablonowski, yearling moundsman, is the star twirler of the Cincinnati Reds.

It is a pleasure to note open refutations of the vague rumors of strained athletic relations between New Hampshire and Dartmouth. Although perhaps the Wildcats are no match for the Big Green in some branches of athletics, there is no reason why athletic relations between the two colleges should not be encouraged and an end put to any rumors of bad feeling nursed by the two student bodies.

The dangers in neglecting small matters were shown in the baseball game Tuesday when a Tufts slugger lost a possible run or two by omitting the second base from his path while hurrying toward third.

Early risers these days are reminded that the season of postponed intramural baseball games is on by the sight of groups of sleepy eyed fellows coming up from the baseball field laden with bats, mitts, and other baseball paraphernalia.

Golf seems to be riding on a wave of popularity this spring; the number of people hunting for golf-balls around town is increasing every day.

PRESIDENT AND MRS. LEWIS TO ATTEND BOSTON BANQUET

Prominent guests and speakers at the annual Boston Alumni banquet at the Hotel Princeton on May 15 will be President and Mrs. Lewis, of New Hampshire, President and Mrs. John A. Couzens, of Tufts College, and Edward Y. Blewett, New Hampshire Alumni Secretary.

A good attendance is expected and all members of the Alumni are invited to attend this annual function which fosters the spirit of fellowship among the graduates of the Blue and White.

Entertainment will be provided for by Jack Standeven formerly of Bradford, England, in the nature of songs of appeal to university men.

will afford a level surface on which to stage drills. The members of the University R. O. T. C. unit should most certainly feel at home while drilling on a football field, after the Wednesday afternoons which they have spent in manoeuvres upon the football field here in Durham.

Leaving Durham on Sunday noon, May 20, the student regiment of more than 700 members will travel by Boston and Maine train to Keene. Upon their arrival, they will form for a march through the city, along the famous wide Main street of Keene, to the camp grounds. Arriving there, they will break ranks to set up the tents in streets according to their companies. After the tents are in place, the next item, which will have by this time presented itself to be of utmost and immediate concern, will be that of food, or "grub" according to true military usage. To care for this vital factor in military life, cooks from the 13th United States Infantry stationed at Camp Devens will be on hand to supply the necessities.

With favorable weather, the prospects of a successful camp this year are most promising. Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Edward Necker of Bergensfield, N. J., with the aid of a capable staff of assistants, will be in command of the routine work of the military camp, which will include pitching camp, drills, parades, reviews, a field problem, and the maintenance of a guard around the camp.

Typical of the spirit of service among telephone personnel.

Commerce, too, has its Raleighs

RALEIGH'S definition of courtesy was apparently to care for the needs of the other person. Today the same practice is observed by the telephone business; but we call it service. To men in telephone work, service is a matter of looking ahead and preparing ahead—and when a need arises, to be ready. This point of view inspires the research engineer, the supervisor of production, the director of personnel and the executive responsible for all these activities and more.

With the increasing telephone requirements of the nation, this is a work of increasing complexity.

Through years to come Bell System men will find an even greater opportunity of service.

Varsity Nine Twice Defeated

Inability To Bunch Hits Loses For Wildcat Nine

Harvard and Amherst Display Stellar Ball to Win 5-4 and 4-3—Crimson Keeps Slate Clean by Hitting Rally in Fourth

Thursday the Wildcat baseball team lost to the undefeated Harvard nine at Cambridge by the score of 5-1, and on Saturday at Durham lost a close game to Amherst by the score of 4-3.
Though both of the games were defeats, the Wildcats showed the elements of good baseball and give promise of turning into a winning club before the season is much further advanced.

At Cambridge a single inning of heavy hitting on the part of the Crimson, coupled with loose fielding on the part of the Wildcats, spelled defeat, Harvard tallying four runs in the fourth frame. Each team got six hits, but the Cambridge team played almost errorless ball behind its pitcher, Cutts, while New Hampshire made five errors. Another factor in the Wildcats' defeat was their inability to bunch their hits; nine Blue and White men were left stranded on bases against one for Harvard. In the sixth inning a tired Slayton was relieved by Evans, who held his opponents hitless.

The Amherst game, held as a part of the Mothers' Day program, represented a series of unfortunate incidents for the Wildcats. In the first inning New Hampshire crossed the plate twice, and in the second with an even better scoring chances, bases full and none out, Amherst pulled a quick triple play, retiring the side.
Again in the ninth inning with two out the Granite Staters started a rally and tallied another run. Then, with three men on bases, it looked as if they would tie up the score, but a third out ended the game. The Wildcat batters pounded out nine hits against eight for the Bay Staters, but as in previous games, failed to follow through with the scoring punch.

FRESHMEN DEFEAT PINKERTON ACADEMY

Frosh Pile Up 20-8 Score on Opponents—Prospects Bright for a Successful Season

The New Hampshire Kittens were given a good workout last Thursday at the expense of Pinkerton when they defeated the academy boys on Brackett field by the score of 20 to 8.
The freshmen garnered 15 hits from the deliveries of Simpson and Gallin, while Jablonowsky and Dunlop only allowed 5.

Coach Christensen made several substitutions and if the game had not been called in the first of the seventh the whole squad might have been used since it was an excellent opportunity to try out new material. Considering that this was the first game on the schedule the frosh nine looked as if it was headed for a successful season.

Line up:

Bates Wins Dual Track Event

Maine Team Beats Wildcats By Close Score 72½ to 61½

Bruce and Allsworth Break University
Records in Shot Put and Pole
Vault Respectively—Toolin
High Scorer for New Hampshire

The University of New Hampshire varsity track team was nosed out of a victory over the Bates track team here Saturday afternoon by the close score of 72 1-2 to 61 1-2. The winning of the meet rested with the winners of the weight events and the javelin throw.

Paul Toolin, captain of the track team, was high scorer for the Wildcats with (19) points to his credit.
Robert E. Bruce, '29, established a new university record in the shot put when he tossed the 16 pound ball 41 feet, 3½ inches. Clayton R. Allsworth, '29, also established a new record in the pole vault when he topped the bar at 11 feet, 4½ inches. Noyes' achievement in winning the mile run was excellent in view of the fact that ordinarily he is a half miler. When Rowe of Bates made 22 feet, 7¼ inches in the broad jump he made the second best jump that has been made in New England this year.

The summary of the meet is as follows:

120 yard high hurdles—Toolin, N.
H., first; Smith, N. H., second; Fisher, Bates, third. Time 16 seconds.

100 yard dash—Rowe, Bates, first;

Wildcats Bow To Tufts, 4-1

Varsity Loses To Jumbos In Fifth Game Of Season

Bowker Tames New Hampshire Bat-
ters With Submarine Ball—Loose
Playing Behind Slayton Loses
Game — Tufts Collects
Three Triples

The losing jinx still pursued the Wildcat baseball team Tuesday when it lost to Tufts on Brackett Field 4-1.
As in previous games, loose fielding was in part responsible for the defeat. Tufts presented a good team, being particularly formidable at bat tapping Slayton for three triples and a couple of singles.

The first Tufts score came in the second inning as a result of a three base hit by Fitzgerald followed up by a single which brought home the man on third. New Hampshire placed a man on bases in the second on a free pass, but three outs following in quick succession kept the score board clean.

In the third Slayton walked the first two Jumbos at bat, the second of which was caught at second on an infield grounder while the other advanced to third. Then, when a well placed throw to second sailed over an uncovered sack the man on third came home, scoring the visitors' second run. In their half of the third frame the Wildcats retired in one, two, three order.

After that the Blue and White tightened up and for the next three innings held the Bay Staters scoreless, Slayton not allowing a single hit. For themselves they threatened in the sixth with men on first and third but did not score.

The seventh inning brought luck
only to the Jumbos, bringing them their third tally. The first two batters retired on infield grounders, but the next singled and scored on a triple. The last batter did not touch second, however, and was tagged out, too late to prevent the score.

The visitors failed to reach first in the eighth, but in the ninth another triple furnished the fourth run, the runner coming in on the return of a long fly. It was in this inning that the single Wildcat score came. A hit placed a man on first. The next two batters flied out, but another hit advanced the runner to third. Then Slayton was struck by a pitched ball and went to first, filling the bases.
Immediately after Ramsey was also struck, forcing in a run. Flynn, pinch-hitting, for Gustafson, struck out to end the game.

ORIENTATION COURSE FOR FRESHMEN PROVES POPULAR

Results of studies of the orientation process for college freshmen show that it is a movement which is sweeping over the college world. A recent inquiry of 330 American colleges and universities shows that only sixty institutions of this number use no methods to help locate the student. Freshmen week, orientation courses, and survey courses are generally used to assist the newcomer.
Literature from the University of Chicago discloses a method of dealing with the problem much similar to that used at New Hampshire where freshmen week and the science survey courses are used.

NETMEN LOOSE FIRST TWO 1928 MATCHES

Major Pitz's Men Meet Strong Clark
University Team Here Saturday
In Attempt to Get on Winning List

The University tennis team meets Clark University here Saturday in its third encounter of the season. Having been defeated in the first two encounters of this season, the team, revamped will endeavor to better its past performances when it meets the strong group of Clark courtmen.

Both defeats were by the same score, 5-1, by Boston University at Boston, and by Bowdoin at Exeter.
Last Saturday's matches had to be transferred to Exeter because of the inadequate facilities on campus, the Academy offering the use of four of its courts for the games.

Yesterday Major Pitz took his charges, the entire squad, to Exeter for practice sets with the Academy team, both for experience and to acquaint the men with good playing courts.

be given to the first three place winners in each final event and team cups will be awarded the winners of each division.

There is a possibility of some of the present interscholastic records being shattered, if the present weather conditions continue, as the track is at its fastest now.

ster Academy, Clark school, Colby

P.A. wins on every count

ANY way you figure it, P.A. is better tobacco.
Take fragrance, for instance. Your well-known olfactory organ will tell you. And taste—who can describe that? And mildness—you couldn't ask for anything milder.

Yes, Sir, P.A. is cool and comfortable and mellow and mild. Long-burning, with a good clean ash. You never tire of P.A. It's always the same old friendly smoke. Get yourself a tidy red tin and check everything I'm telling you!
